- 2025 is the time to decide on a studio to which you will be dancing and representing.

As always, Craze has been incredibly open to students doing classes, workshops and private lessons with other teachers and studios as we believe this is a great way to expand your dance knowledge and creativity to become a better dancer. If you choose to remain with Craze as your main studio and perform in concerts and competitions with solo and groups (we will always continue to make this possible) you are more than welcome to do classes elsewhere as long as they do not interfere with Craze lessons and activities, and you are to let us know of all the classes you will be attending elsewhere.

If you are with Craze but you learn a solo from another teacher outside our studio,, we simply ask that you and your teacher/choreographer tag us in any social media also. We will also do the same if we are notified of this. You belong to no one, but we are super proud of your achievements and would love to acknowledge you for this.

If you wish to audition and are successful in our Advanced Level classes, we expect you to be committed to Craze for all group items in any competition, and you are to enter solos, duo/trios under Craze Dance Academy on your entry forms.

If for some reason you have decided to move on from Craze, we request that all your past solos, duos/trios and choreography learnt from our studio stay, you are not to take these onto your new studio (unless given permission by Miss Laura) as we will be passing these onto younger students.

In saying all this, I believe a studio is more than a place to dance, connections are made with friends and teachers connect to students within a weekly class. Students can also become confused with different corrections. I think it's fantastic to get casual classes here and there, attend a workshop or attain a new solo from other teachers. But I feel you should commit to one studio as your focus, show respect and dedication to that studio and prove to them you are proud to support and wear that Studios name with pride.

Studio hopping is not a respectable thing in the dance world. Make a decision, it's understandable if your studio doesn't offer a certain class and therefore you need to go elsewhere for that class, but if your studio can offer you these things, then I believe you need to stick to one for the majority of your training
